Excerpt from the Book

"I was diagnosed with ALS 10 years ago. At the time, I was a healthy and active 40-year-old man. I had a wife, two young children, and a successful career."

"The diagnosis of ALS was devastating. I knew that it was a progressive disease with no cure. I knew that it would eventually take my life."

"But I also knew that I had to live my life to the fullest. I had to find a way to accept my diagnosis and live with it."

"In this book, I share my personal experiences of living with ALS. I write about the challenges and triumphs, the joys and sorrows."

"I offer insights into intimacy, hope, and resilience."

"I hope that my story will inspire others who are facing challenges of their own. I hope that it will help them to find the strength to live their lives with courage and dignity."
