1. Be impeccable with your word.
2. Don't take anything personally.
3. Don't make assumptions.
4. Always do your best.

These agreements may seem simple, but they are not always easy to follow. However, if we can commit ourselves to living by them, they can have a profound impact on our lives.

Be impeccable with your word.

This agreement is about being honest and truthful with ourselves and others. It means not gossiping or slandering others, and not making promises that we don't intend to keep. When we are impeccable with our word, we build trust and respect with others.

Don't take anything personally.

This agreement is about not letting the actions of others affect our self-esteem. When we take things personally, we are giving our power away to others. We are allowing their words and actions to define us.

Don't make assumptions.

This agreement is about not jumping to conclusions or making assumptions about others. When we make assumptions, we are often wrong. And when we are wrong, we can create unnecessary conflict.

Always do your best.

This agreement is about giving our best effort in everything we do. It is not about being perfect, but about always striving to do our best. When we always do our best, we can be proud of ourselves, regardless of the outcome.

The agreements in Mastery of Awareness are not easy to follow, but they are worth it. If we can commit ourselves to living by them, they can help us to live a more conscious and fulfilling life.

Here are some of the benefits of living the agreements:

- Increased self-awareness
- Improved relationships
- Greater peace and happiness
- More fulfilling life

If you are ready to take your life to the next level, I encourage you to read Mastery of Awareness: Living the Agreements. It is a book that has the power to change your life.
